AGUS I ELS MONSTRES

BY TBC

Agus Pianola's life would be entirely normal if it weren't for the ten monsters living in his bedroom. Agus shares this secret with Lidia, his good friend, while making his parents believe that the monsters are cuddly toys. However, the monsters are clearly far from being mere cuddly toys! Each one has a speciality (reading, food, animals, recycling, holes...) and together they make a wholesome team where fun, empathy and good vibes are always guaranteed. AWA IN THE DESERT

BY JULIA HORRILLO PLÁ

On the coast of Cádiz, a group of sub-Saharan migrants is intercepted and taken to a sports centre to spend the night. Among them is Awa, a 13-year-old girl, dressed as a boy. While trying to get in touch with her cousin who lives in Seville, Awa remembers the most important episodes of her journey, since the war forced her to flee from the Ivory Coast with her mother, until she crossed the strait in a boat. Throughout the journey, Awa imagines that the adventures of the legendary warrior Akwa Boni are a reflection of her experiences. This is how she faces the hardest moments and keeps the memory of his mother alive, hoping to see her again one day.

FLOC DE NEU

BY ESTHER CASAS ROURA

Blocks of snow dance to the beat of a beautiful melody inspired by a flurrying snowstorm. We come upon one snowflake in particular named Flocky.

A young girl wakes up in a train car and watches the storm through the window. Suddenly, Flocky comes flying in and lands on the girl's hand.

From that moment on they will become inseparable companions. They'll dance, play, laugh and have a great time. Together, they'll form an unconditional bond that will wipe the rest of the world from their minds.

But one day the unexpected happens: Flocky suddenly disappears without a trace.

Was Flocky even real? Or was everything just dream?

I, ELVIS RIBOLDI JO, ELVIS RIBOLDI

BY JAVIER GALÁN

Catalan

Films

Elvis Riboldi is a nice boy with a big heart who always means well. He's energetic, optimistic, passionate and full of life! He is essentially the personification of childhood joy... but taken to the extreme. He's too energetic, too optimistic and too passionate, so things tend to get way out of control. Consequently, he often gets himself into trouble, not because he goes out looking for it, but because it finds him. And every time Elvis tries to face a problem, it snowballs out of control. This is an absurd, entertaining, character-driven comedy series that recounts the adventures of Elvis and his friends in Icaria, a place where, according to some people, nothing out of the ordinary ever happened until Elvis was born. JIMMY & THE MAGIC KEY

BY XAVIER CARMONA, LLUIS VICIANA

Jimmy & the Magic Key is a series of adventures which, besides sparking laughter, aims to give children a glimpse into the world of classical music and introduce them to the greatest works and most famous composers of all time.

To make this happen, the series revolves around our main character, the famous concert musician James Rhodes and, specifically, his animated alter ego, Jimmy.

Through his piano, which is also a time machine, Jimmy will travel back in time to all the capital cities, where he will meet the most influential figures of classical music and interact with them as they help him solve the conflict posed in each episode.

JOSEP

BY AUREL

February 1939. Completely overwhelmed by the flood of Republicans fleeing the Franco dictatorship, the French government thinks the only solution is to put these Spaniards in concentration camps where the refugees will have no other choice but to build their own barracks, to feed on the horses which carried them out of their country, and to die by the hundreds due to lack of hygiene and water. In one of these camps, two men, separated by barbed wire, will befriend each other. One is a policeman, the other is Josep Bartoli (Barcelona 1910 - New York 1995), anti-Franco fighter and designer.

POLINOPOLIS

Catalan

Films

BY MARIA ANTOLINI, MARTIN GUIDO

Milo and Yuca are two inseparable friends; they do everything together! Just like all friends, they sometimes argue about things like pizza toppings. One small detail worth mentioning is the fact that Yuca is a forest spirit: horns and fangs and all. Their other friends don't look alike either: Zabo is a male bee, Roco is a grumpy rock that comes to life and Uma is a flying head. This is because Polinopolis, where they live, was built on top of layer after layer of cemetery ruins. They've to deal with typical "first times" for their age: facing the school bully, learning to do a flip on their bikes and such. Their adventures are sometimes strange, occasionally paranormal and often absurd, but they always come with a big dose of humour.

ROYALS NEXT DOOR VEÏNS REIALS

BY VERONICA LASSENIUS

Crown Princess Stella has just received the best news ever! Due to water damage in the castle the royal family has to move out. Queen Kat sees it as the perfect opportunity to modernise. In line with King Bob's royal motto "Closer to the people" they decide to live in a normal house in an ordinary suburb. It's time to show the people that the Royals are just like everyone else.

For Crown Princess Stella, moving is the best thing that could happen to her. She has always wanted to live a regular life, go to a real school and just blend in. But blending in when you have always stood out is not easy, especially when you do not have the remotest idea of how ordinary things are done.

Will the Royals manage to combine state dinners and opening speeches with cooking, football practice and cleaning the house? All without the help of the numerous staff they are used to? If not, it won't be for lack of trying. Stella, her sister Molly, their parents and pets will discover everyday life with enthusiasm and a touch of eccentricity while they try to stay true to their own royal traditions and duties.

As if finding your own way in a new reality wouldn't be hard enough, the family has to do it under the watchful eye of the nosy neighbour, the lurking paparazzi, the mayor and the incredulous Queen Mother, all of whom are convinced they will fail.

Navigating a school hallway when you're 13 years old can be a daunting task for anyone and a thousand times harder when

BY DAVY DURAND, VINCENT PATAR, STÉPHANE AUBIER

Stinky Dog and his friend Flatcat are a couple of misfits who live in a rubbish bin.

Our ordered, narrow-minded society regards them as nobodies, down-and-outs, invisible.

Stinky dog feels no hatred towards those who reject him. He likes living in his rubbish bin, surrounded by his friends. It's his natural habitat and he aspires to nothing else.

He wants to find love and tries to go on holiday, like everyone else. But because he acts a little too fast and isn't the world's greatest thinker, his quests are always complicated and only accentuate his eccentricity.

On the surface, Stinky dog's adventures are crazy and touching, but deep down, our hero is questioning society.

THE TREE OF EARS L'ARBRE DE LES ORELLES

BY JUAN CARLOS CONCHA

In an attempt to communicate with other life forms, NASA launches a gold disc into space that contains all the music in the world. On its centuries-old journey, the album makes no contact with anyone and finally lands on a planet similar to the earth where no one has ears except Simone. He is the only child able to communicate with "the tree of ears", a strange tree that began to grow the same day Simone was born. He listens, understands, loves: in the encounter with the tree and with music, the experience of a child becomes the experience of all that humanity, which, thanks to him, rediscovers itself.
