#BOZA

BY SÉVERINE SAJOUS, ANNA SURINYACH

Alhassane, Aminata, Mamadou, Mariam and Yahya provide first-person accounts of how they made it to Europe, with images they captured themselves. They all have the same goal, to make a boza, but what does this word mean? Does it actually exist? When is the dream of boza really fulfilled? #boza, a short, unfiltered documentary showing people on the move. A first-person plural selfie about migration.

#LUIMELIA

BY BORJA GONZÁLEZ SANTAOLALLA

A spin-off of Love is forever about Luisita and Amelia, #Luimelia transports their relationship into the context of 2020.

26-year-old Luisita makes a living designing t-shirts. She comes from a large family and hasn't been in a love relationship for a long time. At 29, Amelia hasn't yet managed to get her acting career off the ground, despite constant auditioning. Independent, down-to-earth and the best friend you could ever have, she has nevertheless failed to meet another woman seeking the same thing as her: an easy-going relationship based on fidelity. Young millennials with all the rights and possibilities offered by today's society, they also encounter some persisting restraints.

A KNOWING OF LOSS

EL SABER PERDRE

BY MARC PUIG BIEL

For a teenager like Max, summer is still that time of year when worries fade away and all that's left is the enjoyment that comes with holidays and loads of free time. But life has other plans up its sleeve, and Max will see his summer cut short when he realises that what he had always idolised may not really be what he thought. He will ultimately have to come to terms with what it means to see his idols crack.

A LIFE NOT SO SIMPLE

UNA VIDA NO TAN SIMPLE

BY FÉLIX VISCARRET

Isaías Idoate never imagined that his life would be like this once he was forty.

Gone are the awards he won as one of the most promising young architects. Now the days go by between his modest architecture studio, where he complains to his partner Mikel, and the playground outside his children's school.

And it is that when he is with his children, Isaías is anguished because he should be working so that some of his projects can get ahead, and when he is working, he tortures himself because he is losing his children's childhood. Wherever he is, Isaías lives burdened.

A WORLD FOR JULIUS

UN MUNDO PARA JULIUS

BY ROSSANA DIAZ COSTA

Julius is a shy, solitary and sensitive boy of the aristocratic upper class of Lima, Peru in the 1950s. He lives with his family in a palace with huge gardens and big living rooms where they are all attended by a lot of servants who also live in the palace, but in a darker and poorer part of it. Julius starts to learn not only about the inequalities of his palace, but life also starts to deal him other blows. In the world of affections he is then only left with the servants of the house, who take care of him and give him love, especially Vilma, his nannie, a "beautiful Indian who for sure descends from an Inca", as his mother, pretty Susan, is wont to say. A short time after his sister dies, his mother marries Juan Lucas, an elegant, rich man who inspires no confidence in Julius. His brothers, already teenagers, start to ally with Juan Lucas, leaving Julius behind the "men of the house". It's around this time that his older brother, Santiago, becomes interested in Vilma, in order to satisfy his teenage sexual needs. Little by little, life in the palace will become more complicated for Julius as he gets older. Not only because it is increasingly complicated to live with Juan Lucas and his brothers, but also because he realizes that Santiago is a threat to Vilma. One night, at a sumptuous party the family offers to a group of Americans who are buying the family mines, Vilma is raped by Santiago, and although Julius doesn't understand what has happened, he

ALL THE MOONS

TODAS LAS LUNAS

BY IGOR LEGARRETA

North of Spain, end of the 19th century. During the final throes of the last Carlist war, a little girl is rescued from an orphanage by a mysterious woman who lives deep inside the forest. Badly wounded and close to death, the girl believes the woman to be an angel who has come to take her to Heaven. Soon, however, she will discover that what this strange being has actually given her is the gift of eternal life... by turning her into a vampire. Left with no choice but to accept her new condition, she will have to learn to live in the profound and painful loneliness of time, trapped inside her little girl's body. An infinity of moons go by before, one day, she meets Cándido, a humble man who takes her in and treats her as if she were his own daughter. Now the little girl will be set on a new path, one that will see her rebel against her animalistic nature and revive in her the hope of getting back the life that was stolen from her.

ALONE

SOLA

BY PEDRO GARCIAMEJIA

María lives in isolation in an apartment with her baby Ramiro, tormented by the memory of an abusive husband.

Confined, for Maria windows are a way to communicate with her neighbours; voyeur, Maria lives the life of others without realising that she is also being stalked. With the passing of the days video calls between María and her imprisoned husband reveal their most intimate emotions and fill her with anguish. The attack by an unknown man, the pandemic and mysterious threats take Maria's paranoia to the extreme, only relaxed by sweet Ramirito. Her maternal instinct will defend Maria and her son against all dangers, except her own madness.

C'EST TOI

BY ROSER TEXIDÓ, JAUME FARGAS

Sandra is a single, middle-class, 38-year-old woman. Although she seems mature and tries to be rational on the surface, she is easily influenced and emotionally a bit lost. One afternoon at a get-together at her friends' house, she runs across a tarot reader who gets her to agree to a card reading, much despite Sandra's apparent and false scepticism.

The cards reveal that the man of her dreams is from France. Though she refuses to admit it, from then on, Sandra can't help but take notice of absolutely everything around her, in her intense quest to find the Frenchman that will fulfil her destiny.

CAN GARDELL

BY FLORENCIA ALIBERTI, SÍLVIA SUBIRÓS MERCADER

For generations, the Gardell family have devoted themselves to a life working the land. An unexpected change in the legal conditions of the land they farm gives Tomàs and Maria no choice but to turn their farm into a bed and breakfast, where they patiently wait for guests to arrive.

Can Gardell is a fictional story with real characters; a portrait of a form of rural life that no longer seems to fit our modern times.

CENTRAL MARKET (S2)

MERCAT CENTRAL (T2)

BY JOAN NOGUERA

Season 2 comes with a high dose of intrigue, with human stories relevant to present times, and with plenty of humour. We witness the evolution of the series' most loved characters, who will see their lives altered by the entrance of new characters and unexpected events: the death of Agata, the arrival of Gloria Suárez, a mysterious woman in pursuit of revenge whose plan will jeopardise the market as we know it; and the appearance of Lucas, an attractive, outgoing young man who will pose a threat to Carla and Samuel's relationship.

The season also addresses current topics such as sexual harassment, job insecurity, the impact of social networks or transsexuality.

EL NUS

BY JORDI FRADES

A story of friendship between two couples -one well-off, the other working class- whose lives are thrown into turmoil when one of them is involved in a car accident, an accident that will cause them all to question whether the lives they have led until that moment are really the lives they had dreamed of. While Daniel is under emergency surgery, his wife Rebeca discovers through a phone call that he was not travelling alone in the car but with her best friend Cristina, who is now missing. Through the unravelling of their story the series looks at relationships and how complicated they can become, at personal dissatisfaction, at two quite different financial circumstances, and at friendship

LEMON AND POPPY SEED CAKE

PAN DE LIMÓN CON SEMILLAS DE AMAPOLA

BY BENITO ZAMBRANO

In a small town located in the island of Mallorca, Anna and Marina, two sisters who were separated when they were teenagers, meet again to sell a bakery they've inherited from a mysterious woman they know nothing about.

The two sisters have led very different lives. Anna has barely left the island and is unhappily married to a man she no longer loves. Marina travels the world working as a doctor for an NGO.

As they try to uncover the secrets hidden behind their enigmatic benefactor and her property, they are forced to confront old family disputes and make up for lost time.

Lemon and Poppy Seed Cake is a story about friendship, hidden secrets and forgotten bread recipes. But above all, it's a story about women who learn to decide, with freedom, about their future.

LIVE IS LIFE

BY DANI DE LA TORRE

Summer 1985. As he does every year, Rodri leaves Catalonia and returns to his family village in Galicia, to meet up with his gang. However, this year is different for him and his friends. Real world problems begin to appear in their lives threatening to tear them apart. Holding on to the friendship that binds them together, the five friends plan to escape on Saint John's Eve in search of a magical flower that, according to a legend, grows on top of a mountain and can make wishes come true. Their only wish now is to solve the problem of their friend in trouble and thus be able to continue together. An adventure that will make them grow on a fascinating path full of action, excitement and hope, and which will leave in their memories that summer in which Live is Life was playing in the background.

LOVE IS FOREVER (S9)

ESTIMAR ÉS PER SEMPRE (T9)

BY EDUARDO CASANOVA

Season 9 finds Manolita and Pelayo at the morgue, devastated. The owners of 'El Asturiano' bar, the heart and soul of the series, have been dealt a hard blow: their daughter Marisol has been found dead. Grief-stricken and powerless in the face of such an inexplicable event, the family falls to pieces. Everyone offers moral support, but they are inconsolable.

The story of the Gómez family, in this season, is the story of a family broken by the loss of a child, of a couple struggling to stay afloat in the aftermath of a devastating event, but above all, the obsession of a mother to discover the truth about her daughter's final days.

MEDITERRÁNEO: THE LAW OF THE SEA

MEDITERRANI

BY MARCEL BARRENA

Autumn 2015. Two Spanish lifeguards, Oscar and Gerard, travel to the Greek island of Lesbos after seeing the heart-wrenching photograph of a little boy drowned in the Mediterranean Sea. They arrive to discover a shocking reality: thousands of people risking their lives every day by trying to cross the sea in the most precarious of vessels, fleeing from armed conflicts and other miseries in their home countries. But the thing that stands out most is that no one is doing any rescue work.

Together with Esther, Nico and other members of the team, they will fight to do the job that none of the authorities are doing and provide support to the thousands of people who so badly need it. For all involved, this first trip will turn into an odyssey, one that will change their lives forever.

MEMORIES OF A TREE

RECORDS D'UN ARBRE

BY SÒNIA ABELLA

Memories of a Tree explores the feeling of absence through the expression of rage, pain and desire that manifests in the body of a woman. These feelings are relived time and time again via a deep emotional scar. This elliptic narration drowns roots in a lyrical style and chooses fantasy as a tool of resistance.

MEN'S COOKING

LA CUINA DELS HOMES

BY SÍLVIA SUBIRÓS

Kitchens have always been a domestic territory typically associated with women. However, as the culinary world professionalized didn't leave a lot of room for female cooks. From history books to reality shows, from royal courts to the great nouvelle cuisine chefs, male names have always taken the spotlight. With my personal history as a starting point and the support from archival material from different times, I use my family history (a lineage of chefs from I'Alt Empordà that marked the tradition of Catalan cuisine) as a springboard to construct a critical and searing interpretation of culinary tradition and the way women's role in it has been rendered invisible.

MOTHERS DON'T

LAS MADRES NO

BY MAR COLL

When motherhood hits Nerea (36), a novice Basque writer, like a tsunami, Alice Espanet (37), a French resident in Vitoria, drowns her two ten-month-old twins in the bath. The appalling event deeply moves Nerea. What kind of mother could kill her own child? The answer appears to be as easy as the incident was repulsive. Nevertheless, Nerea feels a powerful and a shameful attraction for the infanticide and the hideous incident. A literary prize with financial endowment gives Nerea the opportunity to request a leave of absence not to raise her child but to create: because writing about Alice will be the only way of understanding her own motherhood's radical experience.

MOUNTAIN

MUNTANYA

BY JAVIER FERREIRO

Lluís feels the threat of death for the first time in his life. He is terrified of getting old, so he decides to hide in the mountain house of his ex-husband, Galo, with the aim of moving away from his greatest desire: his young boyfriend Mario.

MUM, I AM THE BOSS

MAMÁ, AHORA MANDO YO

BY FEDERICO MOCCIA

The story, based on a separation ruling by the Court of Trieste, begins with an unusual decision by a judge: given the couple's dispute over keeping the family home and the impossibility of determining who is the right parent for the child to live with, he assigns the family home to the couple's child and establishes that the parents alternate every Monday in the house. The sentence is provisional: in four months the judge will decide who is to live with the child, under the supervision of a social worker.

Francesco, nine years old, smart and rather lively, interpreting the sentence in his own way, convinces himself that he is now the boss of the house, triggering some very daring situations while also trying to bring his parents back together again.

MUYERES

BY MARTA LALLANA

In the Asturian mountains of Cangas de Narcea live the last guardians of a centuries-old tradition, the oral transmission of songs, romances and legends. These women were taught by their ancestors, but now no one carries on their legacy and their voices are muted. A visitor comes to the valley with an old recording device that preserves the voices of these women recorded years ago. Obsessed with these deep songs, he decides to set off on a quest to find them.

OFFICIAL COMPETITION

COMPETENCIA OFICIAL

BY GASTÓN DUPRAT, MARIANO COHN

In search of transcendence and social prestige, a multimillionaire businessman decides to make a film to leaves a mark. For this, he hires the best: a stellar team consisting of famed filmmaker Lola Cuevas (Penelope Cruz) and two well-known actors, both of whom are huge talents, but with even bigger egos: Hollywood actor Felix Rivero (Antonio Banderas) and the radical theater actor Iván Torres (Oscar Martínez). Both legends, but not exactly best friends. Through a series of increasingly eccentric tests designed by Lola, Felix and Ivan must face not only each other, but also with their own legacies.

OH MY GOIG! (V)

OH MY GOIG! (V)

BY AÏDA TORRENT

Oh My Goig! is an educational series for young people broadcast on betevé. The fifth season is adapted to the reality of the 2020 pandemic. We will see how lockdown has disrupted the main characters' lives and will deal with issues related to long-distance sexuality, feminism, the LGTBI + collective, transphobia, personal acceptance, racism, sex work, conflicts with partner or family, etc.

The edutainment format that hybridises fiction and reality with the Young Expert Committee is maintained, this year in podcast format. Young people between 19 and 23 years old contribute their experiences and reflections to the scripts so that the plots of the series are representative of their realities and respond to their concerns.

OH MY GOIG! (IV)

BY AÏDA TORRENT

Oh My Goig is a youth sex education series for betevé. In its fourth season, it keeps the edu-entertainment format that hybridises fiction and reality, with the Committee of Young Experts, a group of 19–22 year-olds who contribute their experiences and reflections to the scripts so that the plots of the series are representative of their realities.

The 4th season of Oh My Goig maintains an urban look and concentrates in 8 chapters topics such as serophobia, polyamory, asexuality, unwanted pregnancy, sexist violence in the couple, the queer world, transphobia, sisterhood, job insecurity, and the influencer phenomenon

ONE YEAR, ONE NIGHT

FEATURE FILMS UPCOMING

BY ISAKI LACUESTA

Ramón and Isabelle, a young couple, attend a concert with two other friends on the night of November 13, 2015, at the Bataclan concert venue in Paris.

During the terrorist attack, the four of them lose sight of one another. They do not know what has happened to any of the others, nor do they understand what is going on. Their friends stay in the pit by the stage, surrounded by a hail of flying bullets, while Isabelle and Ramón manage to reach the musicians' dressing room, separately, and different times, and take refuge there for hours until their release. By the time they get out, they are no longer the same people. And they don't know if they will ever be again.

In the street, along with horror, they discover that their friends have also been lucky: they are alive, they are together, they are not even wounded, and everything seems possible.

But that night, which they each experienced differently, leaves a profound mark on their lives and inflicts upon them an unexpected identity, as victims, which they both deal with as best they can in their own way. Isabelle pushes on, rejecting this new identity, clinging on to her previous life, and Ramón relives the events again and again, in an attempt to take hold of them so he can deal with it and change his way of living up until then.

During the year after the attack, the couple tries to get back in sync with one another, to feel connected again as they were before the terrible events that should not have happened to them, and which have so unfairly made them who they are now. They love each other, but the events of that night, and their different experiences, will poison their relationship until it reaches breaking point.

PATH OF HEAVEN

CAMÍ DEL CEL

BY ESTEVE SOLER

Everything is false in the concentration camp where Gottfried has just arrived as a prisoner. The Field Commander will force him to coordinate the shooting of a film that seeks to make people believe the ultimate perversion: fascism doesn't persecute the Jewish people, but protects them from horror. Reality and fiction will be mixed in a disconcerting way in the lives of Gottfried and the Commander awaiting the arrival of a Red Cross inspector who must certify the impossible goodness of the concentration camp.

QUICO SABATÉ, DESTINATION UNKNOWN

QUICO SABATÉ, SENSE DESTÍ

BY SÍLVIA QUER

Sabaté lives in exile in France, but since the end of the Spanish Civil War he has never stopped making forays into Spain in an attempt to overthrow fascism in the only way he knows and considers effective: direct action. This journey, structured like a road-movie with a hint of western, highlights the fears of four characters and Sabaté, their past, their regrets and questions about their cause and the violence, uncovering the ghosts of the past of all these characters in a fast-paced adventure where both sides show that they are fine adversaries.

R.I.P. THE SERIES

R.I.P. LA SÈRIE

BY CAYE CASAS

R.I.P. is a dark and surreal comedy in which none of the characters are able to rest in peace. Self-concluding episodes located in different towns in the deepest and most archaic Spain, with peculiar names such as Matagorda, Aldeaquemada and La Hoz de la Vieja. Accidents, suicides, murders and postmortem events give rise to the plots in each episode, with cartoonish and oddball protagonists. Topics such as the acceptance of death, family dysfunction, the right to die and economic interest are recreated in a bloody narrative and visual satire. Sooner or later, whether we are rich, poor, happy or miserable, we are all going to die, so we'd better laugh at death in the meantime.

RIDE

BY NEUS FLORES

Ride tells the story of a mother (Emma) and her teenage daughter (Alex). The two do not get on very well; indeed, both have a very different view on life, and Alex becomes a hard-to-manage rebel. When Emma realises that it is up to her to educate her daughter, she takes her by the hand on a journey of mutual reflection that will bring them closer together emotionally.

Ride seeks to delve into women's relationships, family bonds, the value of education and the fact that having one's own experiences helps one to understand the experiences and feelings of others.

Ride is an audiovisual expression of the openness of human relationships, while at the same time presenting us with an intergenerational world of changing values, which are very close to home and profound in our society.

After the accidental flooding of her apartment, she meets her new neighbour Lucía (41), a transsexual woman. Despite their tense first encounter, the two women meet again and start spending more time together. As day and night pass, they begin to see themselves in the other and to help one another. As dawn breaks, both women will find healing and freedom in the middle of the sea.

SI AMANECE, NOS VAMOS

BY LAURA OBRADORS, ÁLVARO FELDMAN

In a neighbourhood of 3,000 homes in Seville, two young lovers, Sindi and Manuel, abruptly part ways after a serious misunderstanding. Each one, in their own way, will fall victim to destiny and an environment in which the line between fantasy and reality is blurred. Si amanece, nos vamos is a fable about the dangers of unbridled and unconditional love, splashed with anger and jealousy. A first work that, through documentary verism, reposesses the codes of quinqui cinema in order to portray the committed day-to-day life of its characters.

ESCANYAPOBRES

BY IBAI ABAD

1889. The industrial revolution disturbs the tranquillity of rural Catalonia with the arrival of the train. Oleguer, with the wave of progress, settles in the village of Pratbell to open a business, but his dark and miserly behaviour immediately turns the whole village against him. It is not the eagerness to earn money that frightens its inhabitants most, but the strange relationship he has with coins. He takes care of them, speaks to them and sleeps with them. They know him as the Poor Strangler. Cileta, a young and curious peasant woman, refuses to believe all the legends about Oleguer, and will enter the darkness of her business, little by little seduced by the brightness of money.

TEL·LÚRIA

BY JOAN JORDI MIRALLES I BROTO

In an ending world, a man buries his wife and embarks on a journey through rugged territory where nature has come to impose itself, amid the vestiges of a surrendered humanity and on the verge of extinction. Throughout this journey, through a strange necrophilic ritual that he will gradually discover, he learns to dig graves so that the living can find rest. The loneliness and hard work of keeping the inner fire alive will lead him to a huge despair, which he will only resolve by understanding and accepting his own destiny.

TERESA

BY PAULA ORTIZ

Spain, the 16th century.

Teresa waits patiently. She knows the time has come. Today, the Inquisitor will come. The fate of the San José monastery, which she worked so hard to found with her sisters, depends on his visit and his judgement. His questions and his conclusions will decide what happens to her sisters, and what happens to her. Freedom, imprisonment or burnt at the stake. In a conversation taking place on a single night, Teresa will struggle through the word, her past, fears, doubts and guilt, to try to find her freedom. "In contradiction is the gain". Teresa is the film adaptation of Juan Mayorga's The Tongue in Pieces about Saint Teresa of Ávila.

THE BELLY OF THE SEA

EL VENTRE DEL MAR

BY AGUSTÍ VILLARONGA

Based on real events.

The Italian writer Alessandro Baricco narrates these events to the novel Oceano Mare, concentrated in a chapter titled The belly of the sea. June 1816. The frigate the Alliance, of the French Navy, ran aground on a sandbar off the coast of Senegal. To the attempts to free the hull prove futile, there is no choice but to abandon the ship. As the available boats are not enough to accommodate all the crew.

build a raft about 12 meters long and 6 wide. In that boat precarious they force 147 men to board: soldiers, sailors, a few passengers and a few officers. The ship's evacuation plan foresees that the available boats will tow them up to the shore. Still, panic and confusion seize the convoy trying to reach the coast. Due to cowardice or ineptitude, the boats lose contact with the raft. The rope that towed him it breaks, or someone cuts it. The boats continue to approach land, but leave the raft at your luck. The current carries her away, and she disappears over the horizon.

A horror that lasted for days and days.

THE CRAZIEST LOVE

TE ESTOY AMANDO LOCAMENTE

BY ALEJANDRO MARÍN

Seville, 1977. Reme is a 50-year-old widow. Miguel, her only child and the apple of her eye, is going to be the first member of the family to ever go to University. They live together very pleasantly in a classic Andalusian courtyard surrounded by their friends until Miguel confesses he wants to enter a talent show for young, up and coming singers. In a moment where homosexuality is a crime, Reme ends up getting involved in the LGBTI movement in Andalucía, where the Catholic Church began to establish itself, quite paradoxically. She rebels against society, something she would have never done if it wasn't for her son being a young homosexual who dreams of becoming an artist.

THE HUMAN HIBERNATION PROJECT

EL PROJECTE DE LA HIBERNACIÓ HUMANA

BY ANNA CORNUDELLA

The Human Hibernation Project shows the daily life of a community that hibernates during the three coldest months of the year. The death of a child during hibernation and the suspicions arround it will generate accusations among the families of the community. As this unfolds we will go through all the phases of its cycle, closely tied to nature and the rest of animal species. How they gain weight to hibernate, how they protect themselves, the awakening, the reproduction of the spieces, as well as their traditions, beliefs, taboos and legends of a proto-society in which we quickly find affinities. THE NEST

EL NIU

BY EVA VALIÑO

Zaira (30) is a nursing student and immigrant from Western Sahara who lives alone with her two children, Lala (4) and Basiri (11) in a rented apartment in Barcelona.

To provide for her kids, Zaira spends a lot of time working outside the home and spends the little free time she has left raising her kids with the age-old values or her faith and culture. One afternoon, while Basiri is cleaning the apartment landing, a middle-aged Spanish woman enters the house, weighed down with bags and suitcases. Having just arrived, Antonia (56) has trouble breathing and collapses on the living room floor. Zaira and her kids come to her aid as best they can until the stranger eventually comes to again. Waking up with her head on Zaira's lap, Antonia asks, "What are you all doing in my house?" Antonia learns her apartment is being squatted and Zaira discovers she's been the victim of a scam and is now in danger of losing her home.

Given both women's precarious situation, they're unsure how to react. Feeling helpless, they both decide to carry on, embarking on a shared living situation that's far from having been agreed on, or desired.

Antonia adapts to the situation by locking herself in one of the rooms with almost a siege mentality. Zaira gets used to Antonia's presence and is actively engaged in the hostile atmosphere that keeps festering between them, day after day. The only ones capable of navigating both sides of this divide are the children who will keep their relationship with Antonia

THE OLD FIGHT

LA VELLA LLUITA

BY CAROL RODRÍGUEZ, MARINA RODRÍGUEZ COLÁS

Maria is 93 years old and lives alone in her small flat in Barcelona, where time seems to have stood still for 50 years. She has her tricks there: steps, hooks, and lamps, to make it less noticeable that she can't stretch her arms too much or see as clearly as she used to.

Her only contact with the outside world is the weekly call from her childhood friend, Pilar. The truth is she has fewer and fewer friends from her generation, and it's hard to keep up with the routines, but what's even harder is that it's obvious that nobody needs her. Every day means a little fight, but Maria has already fought a lot during her life and she's not going to give up easily now.

LA IMATGE PERMANENT

BY LAURA FERRÉS

Carmen, 52 years old, is the casting director of an advertising agency. She sees how her surroundings at work and her personal life start to change. She finds herself between two worlds. The first is her office and advertising, her new apartment, brilliant and full of opportunities, and the other is where her mum has to undergo surgery, where tourists drag themselves around an unauthentic city and nightclubs, and dating apps that are used as a way to vent.

THE POP SONG

LA CANÇÓ POP

BY RAÚL PORTERO

Simón must go from London to Barcelona to attend the funeral of one of his friends, Carlos. In the 24 hours that he spends in Barcelona, he will find a city that he doesn't recognise and some friends that he feels are like strangers: María, determined to have everything under control; Úrsula, caught between the expectations she had about herself and what she has become; León, a resentment virtuoso due to his precarious personal situation and Axel, the great love of his life to whom he wrote a song that was a hit some years ago. Their reunion will determine his future and make him decide whether to stay or go back to London.

THE TURTLE MANEUVER

LA MANIOBRA DE LA TORTUGA

BY JUAN MIGUEL DEL CASTILLO MORENO

Driven by misfortune, the irreverent Inspector Manuel Bianquetti is forced to accept a transfer to the Cadiz police station, a predictably quiet place that will be altered by the discovery of the body of a 16-year-old girl. A violent death that will bring him reminiscences of a past that he cannot get rid of.

Despite the opposition from his superiors, Bianquetti will undertake a lone crusade to catch the culprit by following the trace of evidence that may not exist beyond his imagination.

The Turtles are people like Julián and Delia, who tried to escape poverty in Spain's thriving cities. The economic crisis is challenging their marriage but family bonds are savage and their daughter, Anabel, will become their glue and also, their prison.

THE VULTURES

ELS VOLTORS

BY DIEGO VEGA

The Vultures is a story that combines black humour and horror. Rosa, a 50-year-old lady and follower of the Andean Messianist Church, suffers a crisis of faith and loses her mind. During this trance, the product of a revelation, she connects with a strong telluric force announced by Pastor Gerardo during their sermons at Church. These events take place in Lima in an indefinite period of time, after the pandemic, amidst dry hills where a wall separates Rosa's working-class neighbourhood and the uptown area where she has been working for 35 years.

TOSCANA

BY PAU DURÀ

Crossing the city by scooter, and carrying a jar of sperm in his pocket, Santi goes to an assisted reproduction clinic to do an in vitro with his wife. Suddenly, a car overturned him and the driver hit the field. Unable to start the bike, he stops a taxi. It has no change and enters a nearby restaurant: the Toscana. There, Ramon, the owner, argues on the phone for some money - which we assume is black - for the refurbishment of the premises. When Santi asks him for a change, a guy named Tomás enters claiming the settlement due to him. Ramon refuses: business is going badly. Then Thomas pulls out a shotgun: desperate, unemployed, has to pay for therapy, and stops sending money to Heidi, his former Swede who lives in Florence with his son Valter.

DOS

BY MAR TARGARONA

A man and a woman wake up attached by the abdomen. David and Sara don't know each other. They are both naked in a mysterious place. By the looks of it, a hotel room. After the first shock, they manage to remain calm and try to figure out why they're there. They don't remember how they got to the room, nor what they did before. David suggests they might have been drugged and kidnapped. Both must trust each other to unveil the mystery, but Sara remains suspicious of David. Being attached to each other complicates every little task, no matter how small. Both of them are forced to share their most intimate and shameful secrets with a stranger in order to solve the mystery.

WE WON'T KILL EACH OTHER WITH GUNS

NOSALTRES NO ENS MATAREM AMB PISTOLES

BY MARIA RIPOLL

16 July, the day of Our Lady of Mount Carmel. Five lifelong friends return to their hometown to meet. They haven't seen each other in a while. They are all in their thirties and feel that their youth is beginning to escape them. Their decisions have shaped their lives, and they wonder between job insecurity, disenchantment, separations and a continuous restarting. Some hope that their meeting can fix their lives, but things are not so simple. Lunch extends into the night and culminates in a night out: proof that the world keeps spinning as the lives of the protagonists stagger onwards.

WHAT ABOUT DAD?

¿ OUÉ HACEMOS CON PAPÁ?

BY ALBERTO SOLA

Two daughters and one son meet at their father's house to talk about why he's been acting so strangely. Their father is a bit unstable at the time and it seems that he is spending too much money on fancy things for a certain woman. The older sister knows who the woman is and what's going on but her younger brother and sister don't. Later on, the younger sister finds out the truth about her father and argues with her older sister. At the end, the father escapes from the house and his son and daughters rush out to find him. The three of them go driving around the city looking for their father. When they turn a corner, they see an elderly lady crossing the street. It's actually their father in disguise. Realising this, the younger sister finds herself paralysed in shock. She doesn't stop in time and runs over her father.

WORLD OF HUMANS

BY MARIA MEDINILLA, ROGER GRAU

Marcos lives a reality that fills him: a house, a stable job and a daughter that gives him all the joy in the world. But perhaps this reality is nothing more than a world that he has created himself. Perhaps, this world is nothing more than a virtual one. Perhaps this virtual reality is World of Humans.
